

Justin M. Klein Named to International Who's Who of Franchise Lawyers 2011

RED BANK, NJ (November 21, 2011) – Justin M. Klein, was recently named to The International Who's Who of Franchise Lawyers 2011, which recognizes the world's leading franchise lawyers based on feedback from clients and peer attorneys. Justin is one of only 138 lawyers from throughout the United States and 323 attorneys worldwide recognized for this honor.

Justin focuses his practice in the areas of franchise law, commercial litigation, and general business law. He has served as legal counsel to businesses, both privately held and publicly traded, as well as individuals in transactions, litigation, arbitration and mediation throughout the United States and internationally. Justin also counsels and consults with businesses on methods of expansion and development including franchising, licensing, formation of strategic partnerships and other methods of distribution.

About Marks & Klein, LLP:

With office locations in the heart of New Jersey, on the banks of the Navesink River, Wall Street in New York and downtown Chicago, Marks & Klein, LLP is on the cutting edge of the legal world and focuses on providing conscientious, thorough and effective legal counseling for all of our clients on every matter. Creativity, integrity and accountability are fundamental to how we practice law and serve individuals, entrepreneurs, businesses and families alike. Large, medium or small, local, national or international, our clients look to us for the soundness of our advice and results we achieve. We are relentless towards achieving positive results while putting old-fashioned personal client service first and foremost. Marks & Klein, LLP has the ability to handle matters in all 50 states.